The Mind of a Criminal University of Worcester

 3–5 July 2026 | Non-Residential

This engaging programme introduces students to Law, Criminology, Forensic Biology, and Policing. Participants will take part in a mock trial, learn about court procedures, and explore what drives criminal behaviour — an ideal taster for those interested in justice or psychology careers.

Beyond the Field: Pathways in Sport Birmingham City University

 7–9 July | Residential

For students passionate about sport, this summer school offers a broad look at careers in coaching, exercise science, teaching, business, and media. With evening social activities and campus accommodation, students gain a real insight into university life.

STEM

Aston University

7–9 July | Residential

A fantastic opportunity for students interested in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Maths. They'll take part in subject tasters, meet current students and academics, and explore future study and career options — all while experiencing life on campus.

Your Future, Your Choice

University of Birmingham

12–14 July | Residential

This residential gives students a taste of university through a range of engaging academic sessions and evening social activities. Supported by student ambassadors, participants will discover what higher education can offer and explore their next steps after school.

Applications for UniFest 2026 open on 1st December.
